

Anthony Lee, PA-C

Anthony Lee is a Physician Assistant at the NeuroSpine Center of Wisconsin. Anthony's duties include performing comprehensive and problem focused histories and physical examination for new patient consultations. Diagnosing and treatment of related illnesses and injuries. Evaluates and clarifies clinical conditions. Ordering and interpreting laboratory and radiographic studies. Helps formulate treatment plans. Evaluates post-operative patients and follow up visits. Performs first assist duties during surgical procedures. Conducts hospital rounds and writes orders and progress notes accordingly. Assists with admission history and physicals as well as discharge planning and summaries.

He received his Master of Physician Assistant Studies from Shenandoah University. Anthony resides in Neenah, WI, with his wife and three very energetic young children. His family also includes two poodle-mix dogs which are incredibly spoiled. Having relocated to Wisconsin from Virginia, he has learned to accept the Wisconsin winters and still hopes that the Washington Redskins will field a respectable team one day.
